The following nominations were considered:

1. Shiloh Presbyterian Church Cemetery, located in the vicinity of Blacksburg (Cherokee County) and Grover (Cleveland County, North Carolina), was presented by Mr. Jason L. Harpe of Harpe Consulting. Before Mr. Harpe's presentation, Mr. Andrew Chandler explained for those present that, because this property is situated partially in South Carolina and partially in North Carolina, the National Register Review Boards of both states must consider the nomination. The South Carolina Review Board is considering it today, and the North Carolina board will consider it at a future date yet to be determined. Upon approval, both states will sign the nomination before submission to the National Register in Washington. Dr. Benedict asked if there was a DAR marker at the grave of William Patterson. Mr. Harpe said there was a military marker at this grave. Mr. Douglas Taylor moved, and Ms. Nena Rice seconded, approval of the nomination at the local level of significance. The Board approved the motion unanimously.

2. Southern Railway Depot, located in Ninety Six (Greenwood County) was presented by Mr. Andrew W. Chandler of the SHPO. The nomination was prepared by Mr. Charles Harts of Ninety Six, with assistance from Mr. Evan Kutzler, SHPO summer intern from the Public History program at the University of South Carolina. Mr. Douglas Taylor asked for information regarding the cotton oil mill in Ninety Six mentioned during the presentation. Dr. Power described the prevalence of mills in South Carolina that extracted oil from cotton seed for commercial purposes. Mr. Sherrer noted that Columbia had such a mill. Mr. Kinney mentioned that these mills were also very common in the Pee Dee region of the state. Ms. Rice motioned to approve the nomination at the local level of significance. Mr. Douglas Taylor seconded the motion and the Board voted unanimously to approve the nomination.

3. Retreat Rosenwald School, located in the vicinity of Westminster (Oconee County) was presented by Dr. Power of the SHPO. Ms. Rosemond-Saunders, along with a small group of Retreat Rosenwald School alumni, all spoke in support of the nomination. Some of the alumni were also the subject of oral history interviews that were used to help prepare the nomination document. Ms. Rosemond-Saunders stated that it was the committee's goal to restore the school and make it available to area school children and as a community meeting facility. The committee has received a grant from the National Trust for Historic Preservation and is seeking other funds. Mr. Benedict asked if the cost breakdown on the construction of this school was typical (about a third of the cost contributed by the Julius Rosenwald Fund). Dr. Power replied that this was indeed typical as local contributions from blacks and whites and the local school district were required for Rosenwald Fund support. Dr. Bartley reported that he had visited the school and noted the presence of original fabric and furnishings. Mr. Douglas Taylor moved to approve the nomination at the local level of significance, seconded by Mr. Sherrer. The Board voted unanimously to approve the nomination.

Consideration of Nominations

Mr. Kinney reviewed the procedures, which include five steps, for considering nominations. The procedures are: presentation of nominations; comments by visitors; questions by board members; uninterrupted discussion by board members; and decision by board members.

The following nominations were considered:

1. Combahee Ferry Historic District, located in the Gardens Corner vicinity of Beaufort County and Colleton County, at the intersection of the Combahee River and US Highway 17, was presented by Mr. Eric Poplin, Ph.D., Senior Archaeologist with Brockington and Associates of Mount Pleasant, South Carolina. The following visitors spoke in support of the nomination: Mr. Ian Hill (Historic Preservation Planner for Beaufort County), Mr. Michael Allen (National Park Service, Gullah-Geechee Heritage Corridor), and Mr. Wayne Roberts (Archaeologist, SC Department of Transportation). Ms. Ashley Wilson asked Mr. Poplin if he was aware of the slave cabins, Diamond Gate, and other post-bellum and early twentieth century resources at Newport Plantation, adjacent to the district. Ms. Wilson also asked if consideration was given to including these resources in the district. Mr. Poplin replied that he was aware of the resources outside the boundaries of the proposed district but that the district was intended to focus on the ferry crossing and its immediate environs with resources associated with the raid conducted by Federal troops in 1863. Mr. Sidebottom asked if other Newport Plantation resources existed. Mr. Poplin replied that several buildings were burned during the raid and later replaced in late nineteenth and early twentieth century. Wayne Roberts commented that the nomination was part of the Department of Transportation's mitigation requirements for the bridge replacement. Mr. Sidebottom asked about the acreage of Newport Plantation. Mr. Poplin replied that it was several hundred acres. Ms. Kennerly-Dance thanked Mr. Poplin for his role in publicizing the history associated with the proposed district. Mr. Poplin replied that part of the Department of Transportation mitigation includes on-site interpretation that is still in development. Ms. Harris asked if the slave cabins were eligible for the National Register, who owned them, and if there were any plans to nominate them. Mr. Poplin replied that they have been determined eligible, they are owned by

Nemours Wildlife Foundation, and there are no current plans to nominate them. The Foundation is working to stabilize the slave cabins. Ms. Wilson suggested a map for the archaeological areas to strengthen the nomination. Mr. Kinney recognized Mr. Chandler who informed the Board regarding written notarized objections from several of the property owners in the proposed district. Mr. Chandler also informed the Board about a letter of support from the Department of Transportation and e-mail communication from Mr. Ernie Wiggers, CEO of the Nemours Wildlife Foundation, stating they do not object to the current nomination as written, but would object to any expansion of boundaries beyond what is currently proposed. Dr. Emerson reminded the Board that they are voting on the merits of the nomination alone and any objections by owners are not to be considered in their decision. Mr. Kinney reminded the Board that the objections will be forwarded to the National Park Service and that the Board's duty is to determine National Register-eligibility of the proposed district. Mr. Kinney also encouraged the students present from the College of Charleston/Clemson program to work on a nomination for other adjacent historic resources. Mr. Chandler advised the Board that the SHPO staff supports the nomination as written and reiterated that objections will be forwarded with the nomination and that separate nominations may be the best way to get other resources listed in the National Register. Mr. Sidebottom spoke in support of the nomination as written. Dr. Emerson reminded the Board that objections can be lifted later, as has happened recently with the Sams Plantation Tabby Complex on Dataw Island. Dr. Huff asked to see where the privately owned land was on the map (Mr. Poplin pointed this out on the map). Ms. Kennerly-Dance sought and received clarification that the Board's decision is based on the nomination presented. Mr. Sean Taylor asked why the owners objected. Mr. Chandler responded that no specific reason has been given in writing, nor is it required. Dr. Emerson said that the Manager for WNL Properties mentioned their concern about National Register listing leading to publicity for their property which might encourage public trespass.

Dr. Abel Bartley moved, and Dr. Edward Lee seconded, approval of the nomination at the local and national levels of significance. The Board approved the motion unanimously.

2. Williams-Ligon House, located in Easley vicinity (Pickens County) was presented by Mr. Bradley S. Sauls of the SHPO. The nomination was prepared by Mrs. Sarah Ligon Foard and the late Amy Ligon Sowell. Visitors speaking in support of the nomination were Mrs. Foard and Mr. Jim Ligon, both children of the late Henry Ligon. Mr. Ligon added that his parents had bought the property just prior to the economic crash of 1929 which. Ms. Kennerly-Dance asked if anyone currently lived in the house. The house is still occupied by the family of the late Amy Ligon Sowell. Ms. Wilson noted her appreciation for the "feel good" nature of the story of the Williams-Ligon House. Mr. Sidebottom recommended adding other "comparables" to the nomination that had significance for agricultural history.

Mr. Sherrer motioned to approve the nomination at the local level of significance. Ms. Wilson seconded the motion and the Board voted unanimously to approve the nomination.

3. J. Davis Powell House, located at 1410 Shirley Street, Columbia (Richland County) was presented by Ms. Jennifer Betsworth, author of the nomination and a Graduate Student in the Public History program at the University of South Carolina. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick M. Wright, Sr., spoke in support of the nomination. Dr. Bartley asked if there were any plans to rehabilitate the garage. The owners said they were working to make repairs. Mr. Douglas Taylor asked if any of the windows in the house were original. The owners replied that all on the front of the house are original, as well as a few on the side elevations. Ms. Kennerly-Dance asked about the historic character of the rest of the neighborhood. Mr. Sherrer, as a resident of the neighborhood, replied that there is great architectural diversity in the neighborhood and that it is great to have nominated this house that is so important to the history of the neighborhood. Mr. Sherrer also mentioned that the neighborhood, including the Powell House, is designated as a city conservation district.

Ms. Kennerly-Dance moved to approve the nomination at the local level of significance, seconded by Mr. Sherrer. The Board voted unanimously to approve the nomination.

4. William Dixon Fowler House, located in Pauline vicinity (Spartanburg County), was presented by Ms. Jennifer Satterthwaite, Local Government and Outreach Coordinator for the SHPO. Mr. David Miller, on behalf of he and his wife (Mrs. Marian Miller) as owners of the property, spoke in support of the nomination. Mrs. Miller is a descendant of the original owner. Ms. Harris recalled frequently passing by the house during her childhood and considered it an important landmark. Mr. Sidebottom commended the owners for their care and maintenance of the house.

Dr. Lee moved to approve the nomination at the local level of significance, seconded by Ms. Harris. The Board voted unanimously to approve the nomination.
